Another characteristic will be AMERICAN LANDSCAPES,

The other illustrations shall be executed by the first American Artists, and in every variety and style, viz.: Line and Stipple Engravings; Colored Flowers and Birds; Lace Work and Embroidery; Pictures executed in Tints, Quarrel's Superb Designs, &c.

In short variety of embellishments, executed by the best artists, shall continue to grace our book. We shall be the first to size the novelties of the day!

PARIS FASHIONS IN ADVANCE.

As elegance and economy in dress are equally desirable, we offer great inducements to country readers, in our monthly descriptions of the fashions, accompanied by our colored plates, which we give at least, two months in advance of every contemporary, being enabled to do this from correspondents in London and Paris. So completely have we outstripped all rivalry, to the lady's Book, our original idea of illustrating American history by views of battle-fields, we are still calmly pursuing in a style that suits all composition. The not less brilliant idea of illustrating the HEROISM OF AMERICAN LADIES by a series of engravings and narratives which will serve to place in their true light the patriotism, devotion, and self-sacrifice of our female ancestors in the revolutionary war, emphatically called THE IRON AGE OF AMERICA, is also original with us. Other incidents of revolutionary history will also furnish subjects for the embellishments of the coming year. Among the same, already executed are,

The reception of the news of Lexington fight—by Darley—Madison's entertainment of the British officer—by White—France—each—every—by Hunter—The storming of red bank fort—by Hamilton—Count Donosti's movement—by MacLean—The battle of Concord bridge—by Franklin—The Granada—battle-ground—by Bonelli Smith—Trenton—battle-ground—by Hamilton, with a large number of others, engaged, but not yet sent in by the artist. Another new and striking feature we now propose for the first time in public, having had artists engaged for twelve months in working it out, our readers will please to note the date of the announcement of this feature. It will consist of characteristic scenes, in which the peculiarities of scenery, costume and customs of every state and territory of the Union will be presented in succession.

THE ROVER.—Fourth volume commencing on the 21st of Sept. 1844.

A WEEKLY MAGAZINE OF TALES, POETRY, LEGENDS,

WIT, ROMANCE AND ARK.

Edited by SARA SMITH, and published by S. B. DERN & CO., No. 123 Fulton St., New York.

Without intending or wishing to disparage other works, the publishers plead guilty to the charge of attempting to make the Rover the best, the cheapest for the price among the various periodicals of the country. Each weekly number contains sixteen large pages of beautifully printed choice pictures, with a beautiful steel engraving, and is done up in a highly embellished illuminated cover, making two volumes a year, comprising 832 pages and 52 steel plates.

The work has now lived to an age to give it in some degree a character to speak for itself, and to warrant confidence in its stability. We prefer not to sound our own praises, but let our works, if they will praise us. We have labored hard to make a magazine for the great mass of the community, that should be the best that could possibly be offered for the price, combining amusement with instruction, disseminating a taste for the arts and encouraging a wholesome and elevated literature.

How far we have been successful in the attainment of these objects does not become us to say. That the Rover has been sustained by the public, through its infancy and up to the present time, although left to make its own way in the world without any extraneous aid or influence, is a recommendation of its character and an evidence of public sentiment in its favor, which makes us both gratified and grateful. Without any material change in the plan of the work we shall enter upon the fourth volume of the work with a steady purpose to sustain its interest and usefulness, and to embrace every opportunity to increase the value of the work.

TERMS.—Single copies three dollars per year; two copies for five dollars, and five copies for ten dollars. Post Masters are authorized by law to forward remittance money free of charge.

MEZZOTINT BY SARTIN.

will appear in January, and unconfessedly never been equalled by that infinite artist. The second, to appear in February, is the first of a series of great historical pictures, which—will maintain the national character of his work—the publisher has projected. These are intended to illustrate great events in American history, especially those in which women figured. The first is a ENGRAVING from a picture never before made public. This figure will make the book unequalled, and those who wish to secure the whole series must send their money early. We here state, what is undeniable, that during 1844, we published MEZZOTINTS BETTER THAN ANY RIVALS, and shall continue to do so for 1845. Those who subscribe to the "National," will have these unequalled engravings often, and in other books. For November, December, and January, 1845.
